Security

With the emerging challenges of insecurity in Kenya and particularly at the Coast, Travellers Beach Hotel and Club is not lying on its laurels awaiting a situation to emerge. We have put in place structures to complement each other on this front.

From our in-house security team, to deployment of extra but contracted external guards, the physical presence and ability to screen, detect and isolate cases of insecurity are almost guaranteed. Similarly, to supplement fortified perimeter walls, we have CCTV systems that are monitored 24/7 to detect and demobilize any potential or perceived threat.

We have lately also engaged fully, the national tourist policing service to beef up security. Our contacts with anti-terrorism agencies also allows for real-time response in case of a threat.

In-house training has also been done to all staff to improve their capacity in providing the valuable link in detection and reporting of any anomaly within and without the Hotel.

Achievements

It is with this kind of service that Travellers Beach has continuously won the TripAdvisor recognitions, HolidayCheck quality certification as well as best 100 hotels in the world by FTI German.

Our facility by the beach has also been endorsed as a quality facility by the Beachfront Club. We have also made significant strides in greening our operations from water and power alternatives to structural designs.
